LIVING IT UP AT MIAMI'S SWEETEST SOIREES!

November is here and the celebrations keep going. On the real estate front, Location Ventures commemorated the groundbreaking of Villa Valencia with an on-site ceremony that included Coral Gables Mayor Raúl Valdés-Fauli, ONE Sotheby's International Realty President Daniel de la Vega and LV CEO Rishi Kapoor. The condominium tower boasts 39 residences that command the highest prices in Coral Gables. >>> Over at Aventura Mall, hosts Martha Graeff, Vita Sidorkina and Jasmine Stewart were all smiles at the opening of the Lightbox Jewelry pop-up, where guests enjoyed bubbles as they perused the brand's new jewelry styles. >>> At the Mana Wynwood Convention Center during the Home Design & Remodeling Show, Debbie Lori Travin of DLT Interiors revealed a custom vignette for NBC6 anchor Roxanne Vargas inspired by the ocean. The event was just one of many such showcases during the show's run. >>> The Boys & Girls Clubs of Miami-Dade hosted its annual Wild About Kids gala kickoff party aboard the Norwegian Breakaway. Guests enjoyed a luncheon as charity president Alex Rodriguez-Roig and Norwegian Cruise Line CEO Andy Stuart held a presentation about the popular fundraiser. >>> Art aficionados packed the Museum of Contemporary Art North Miami for the opening of the South Florida Consortium Exhibition, which showcased works by local artists. Among those in attendance were MOCA Executive Director Chana Sheldon, the museum's chairman, William Lehman Jr., and various well-known collectors. >>> And over at Acqualina in Sunny Isles Beach, it was all about the Acqua Talks, a broker-only educational series where real estate magnates like Acqualina developer Jules Trump held a lively discussion about the state of Miami's luxury realty market.
